Greetings,

April 2014

It has been a very busy month. Ron and Terri Lewis, friends from our home church, and their friend Gerald came to visit for about a week this month. They jumped in and managed to complete all of the work (which had been on hold for more than a year) on a little apartment for our first college intern. They built and installed shelving and cupboards, some electrical wiring in two areas of the apartment, and installed a drop ceiling in the hallway of another house. The apartment is now ready for use, and when not in use by an intern, it will be available for long term accommodations for a couple or a single person.

Another guest this month brought lots of goodies to eat and drink as well as some movie theater products like cups, hats, and posters donated by the Ster-kinekor theater. The kids enjoyed using the products, and hung the posters in their bedrooms. The theater also donated carpeting which will be installed in various areas to make the rooms more cozy.

Quemic security, from the Welgevonden private game farm, talked to the children about what they did at their jobs, and gave them a lesson on rhino poaching and why it hurts the population. The boys loved learning about the guns.

AVENG, a company from a nearby town sent a road grader to level the field we recently cleared trees from, for a regulation size soccer/rugby field. The area looks amazing. Now we just need grass and goals.

We had a very nice Easter weekend. Jennifer, Ethan and Caeley were instrumental in setting up all kinds of activities for the children to do, including a treasure hunt. The children loved that so much, the Hayes did another one two days later. We had a very nice cookout and lots of activities.

Poor Oneile fell on his face and broke out his front teeth. When he arrived at the Fold, he had significant decay on his front baby teeth, and the dentist advised us to leave them until they fell out or were bothering him. When he fell, he didn't cry and it's not hurting him. He now has a beautiful, classic snugglepuss, smile.

We are registered with an organization called Great Non Profits. Last year we had enough nominations to get into their "top rated awards" list. They are looking for nominations for 2014 now. Being on the list gets us greater recognition for foundations who are looking to help organizations. If you have ever visited us, prayed for us or supported us, please consider filling out their form to get us on the 2014 list by going to this link:

Praises: The Botzum's visit and their future with The Fold. Local interests in The Fold continue to increase and the recent donations.

God bless,
